1 Rebuild the puppy lovers page using React

👉 Ensure that all CSS properties previously applied in the commons css file are now should be organized into separate files corresponding to components, for example, Header.jsx or Header.js will have a Header.css file associated with it.

👉 Aim to centralize common CSS properties in the uppermost component, such as App.css.

👉 For header and footer components create a folder called components and create the directory and files accordingly

👉 Create a component called Body.jsx along with Body.css inside a directory called Body in src folder and implement the rest part in it
